To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to recommend Lauren Gibbs for any teaching position in the field of art education. As a part-time art teacher at Locust Valley Middle School and High School, Lauren consistently demonstrated exceptional dedication, creativity, and passion for both her craft and her students' development.

Lauren joined our art department in August of 2021 and made an immediate impact. Throughout her nine months with us, she taught a variety of classes spanning different age groups and skill levels. She successfully instructed 6th, 7th, and 8th-grade art classes, fostering creativity and skill development among our middle school students. Additionally, Lauren took on the responsibility of teaching Computer Art Design and Fashion Illustration & Advertising to grades 9 through 12, as well as teaching a High School Life Skills art course. Her versatility in teaching across these diverse subjects showcased her adaptability and expertise in the field.

One of Lauren's notable contributions was her involvement in extracurricular activities. She spearheaded the Middle School Yearbook Club, guiding students through the process of creating a memorable yearbook. Her leadership and mentorship were instrumental in the club's success, resulting in a publication that captured the essence of our school year. Furthermore, Lauren coordinated the art displays for our Holiday Concert and Spring Art Show, showcasing the talent and hard work of our students to the broader school community. These events not only highlighted our students' artistic achievements but also fostered a sense of pride and community within our school.

Lauren's professionalism, creativity, and dedication to her students were evident in all aspects of her work. Her ability to engage and inspire young minds, coupled with her organizational skills and collaborative spirit, made her an invaluable member of our team.

In conclusion, I wholeheartedly recommend Lauren Gibbs for any teaching position in the field of art education. Her passion for teaching, coupled with her exemplary skills and accomplishments, make her an asset to any educational institution. Please feel free to contact me if you require any further information.

Sincerely,

AnnMarie Buonaspina
